

THRE PROPOSED AMENDMENT FOR A MODERN-DAY CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. THE HUMAN RIGHTS ARTICLE V AMENDMENT EFFORT

The proposal may be cited as “The Human Rights Effort”.---

SECTION 2. FINDINGS

- (1) The Founders of our Constitution empowered State Legislatures to upon their application, call an Article V convention to propose amendments to the Constitution; and
- (2) The nationally regulated systems of education, healthcare, economics, and justice have failed to enable equal and fair access to all; and
- (3) Social evolution requires the constant and consistent review and revamp of social structures to ensure that they are operating to support humanity’s highest potential; and
- (4) The Constitution has not been amended in 30 years, and before that in 57 years; and
- (5) The current living generation of people have had no say, in the current political and social frameworks that dictate their daily and social operations; and
- (6) The opportunity to restore faith in the several states’ union, reinvigorate the citizenry in its own governance, and refresh unity amongst neighbors, lies in this Resolution.
